

Home Study CE:

Continuous Glucose Monitoring (CGM); A New Asset for Glucose Monitoring

Assessment Questions

1. CGM means
 - a. Complex glucose monitoring
 - b. Continuous glucose measuring
 - c. Continuous glucose monitoring

2. CGM devices eliminate the inconvenience of conventional finger stick testing.
 - a. True
 - b. False

3. The approved application sites for the Dexcom G6 is on the _____.
For the Libre it is on the _____.

What are possible disadvantages of CGM devices

- a. Cost
- b. Technology
- c. Sensor care
- d. Only available for patients using insulin
- e. All of the above

What is Lag time?

- a. Difference between blood sugar checks
- b. Difference between finger stick results (capillary blood) and CGM sample (interstitial fluid sample)

Which is not an advantage of a CGM?

- a. Real time blood glucose data
- b. Data displayed in graphic form
- c. Ability to enter events affecting blood sugar (insulin dose, meals, activity)
- d. They display trend arrows indicating blood glucose movement
- e. Are approved for anyone having insurance and diagnosed with diabetes

Patients much be using 3+ insulin doses per day, should be checking BG 4+ times a day and using CGM data to adjust insulin dose

GCM devices have demonstrated a clinical reduction in A1C.

- A. True
- B. False